1. Go through the form and fill in any of the red starred (*) questions (these answers can be changed later, some of them will require for example a real email address but for others you can just type some letters (jlsjdkls) to make the form think you've filled the answers.

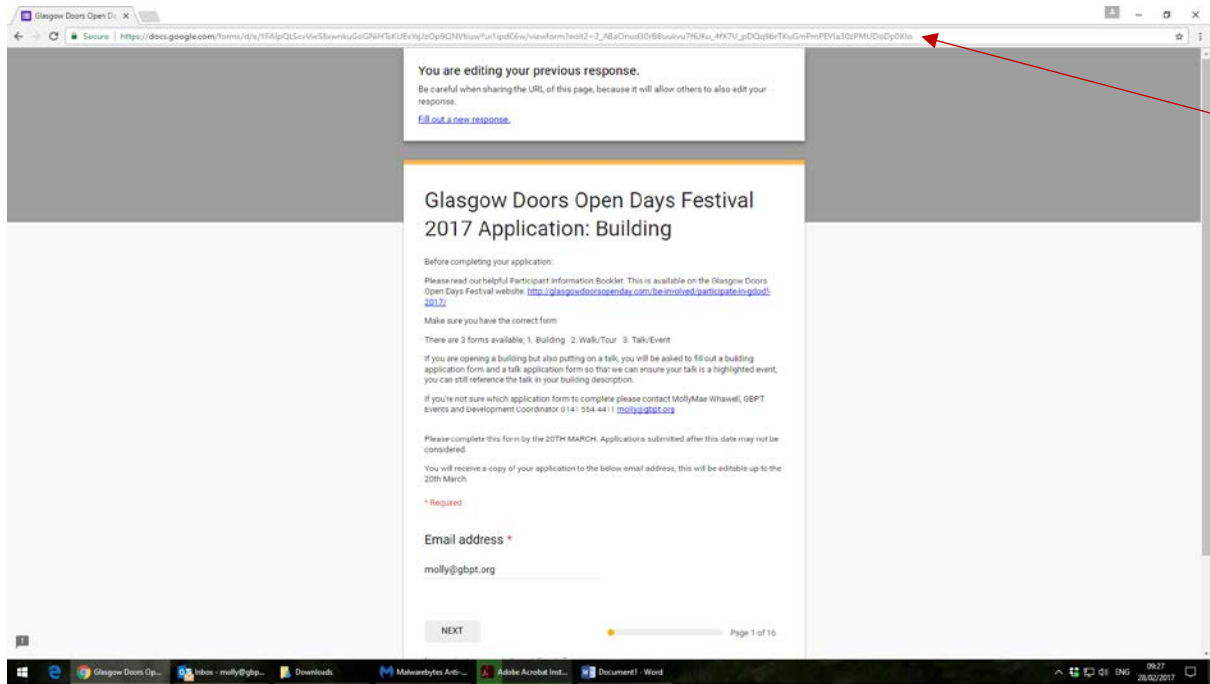

2. Once you've got to the end and clicked 'submit', you will receive an email from Google Forms, giving you the option to click 'Edit Response'. This allows you to return to the form and edit your answers or fill in the non-starred questions at a later date.

2b. Alternatively, once you click 'submit' at the end of the draft form, click 'edit your response' and the form will take you to back into your form.
